Fô lobo

Jô Lobo has built her artistic path through a dialogue between her backgrounds, from Advertising Designer to Environmental Consulting and self- knowledge tools. In her encaustic and Land Art works, she uses experiences of personal reconnection, making possible perceptions of time and space / expansion and contraction / solidity and liquidity, through an inaugural look. Thus, she creates inspiring spaces that generate internal transformations.

Land Art inspires her in the recovery of forests; encaustic in healing the soul - she summons the fire, the natural scent of beeswax, recycled materials or not, textures and colors to a generous sensuality that reverberates into a deep contact, providing the "Presence's medicine", into the process of heal herself, healing others.

She participated in individuals and group exhibitions in southern France and Minas Gerais, Brazil.

Exhibition - Spring 2021

Soul from immanence to transcendence

I am concrete matter, heavy, submissive to the construct time .

I'm ether...also.

From self-construction to self-revelation,
I continue along this river of illusions of who I am,
making existence a "work of art".

This is the Work.
deconstruct all shape
Undefine all meaning of me, of you, of the world.
.....emotions, concepts, relationships...

I observe

Now is God's other name
At now the soul summons us
From challenges... the soul causes self rescue.

Suffering is necessary
Sorrows... losses... are accurate.

Spiraling with them,
the (re)encounter happens

I bring about the reintegration of all parts of me

I remember

The relationships with myself, with my body, with others.
I remember who I am

I welcome the pain
I grant its place
I dissolve the red,
I transmute the silenced incongruities

....pervading the world with Presence and with the freedom of being able to live imperfection.
.... I go to the Holy Altar

.....where I've always been.
